

health care reform readiness series

August 2013

faculty bios

Warren Brodine, CEO

Chicago Family Health Center

Warren Brodine has served as CEO of Chicago Family Health Center since September 2008. Prior to that he worked for a national consulting firm focusing on hospitals and outpatient care, two other federally-qualified health centers, a state association of community health centers, a statewide Planned Parenthood affiliates office, and a port authority. As Chief Executive his priorities have been building financial reserves, increasing fundraising, modernizing technology, and establishing up to date care facilities. In addition, the Chicago Family Health Center has focused on developing comprehensive coordinated care models for the full life cycle of care.

Jon Dunn, MSW, MBA, President and CEO

Planned Parenthood of Orange and San Bernardino Counties (PPOSBC)

Jon Dunn has served as President/CEO of Planned Parenthood of Orange and San Bernardino Counties (PPOSBC) since October 1993. Under Jon's leadership the affiliate has become one of the largest in the nation, serving 160,000 unduplicated clients annually with a broad array of reproductive health, WIC and education services. Jon is currently the Secretary of the Affiliate Chief Executives Council, a national organization comprised of the more than 70 Planned Parenthood CEOs from across the country. He also serves on the Board of Planned Parenthood Affiliates of California. Jon is a former board member of CFHC and a former Chair of the Orange County Coalition of Community Clinics. Jon has a Masters Degree in Social Work from Boston University and a Masters Degree in Business Administration from Northeastern University.

Samantha Jones, MPH, Senior Program Coordinator

California Primary Care Association (CPCA), Patient-Centered Health Home Initiative

Samantha Jones is a Senior Program Coordinator with CPCA's Patient-Centered Health Home Initiative. CPCA's Patient-Centered Health Home Initiative is a technical assistance program supporting California community clinics and health centers in transforming to and sustaining a patient-centered model of care. Samantha focuses on program marketing and outreach, as well as technical assistance with NCQA PCMH Standards and Guidelines. Prior to her role at CPCA, she managed grant funding at LifeLong Medical Care, one of CPCA's FQHC member clinics. She received her MPH from the UCLA Fielding School of Public Health.

Risë K. Phillips, MPH, MBA, President and CEO
To Help Everyone (T.H.E.) Clinic, Inc.

Risë Phillips is President and CEO of T.H.E. (To Help Everyone) Clinic, a federally-qualified health center serving over 12,500 underserved patients in six service sites throughout South and Southwest Los Angeles. During her career, Ms. Phillips has held key executive management positions in both public and private health care sectors ranging from $8 million to $5 billion in size. Her work within the Los Angeles County Department of Health Services provided the statistical justification necessary to support housing and prevention interventions in the early days of the HIV/AIDS epidemic. While heading the business development and public policy functions at California Family Health Council, Risë worked on major pieces of legislation in the U.S. Congress and at the California State Capital designed to safeguard and bring additional funding in support of women's healthcare and reproductive rights. She served as Project Director for a biomedical support group actively engaged in worldwide HIV clinical trials research working with 255 researchers located in Africa, Thailand, India, Brazil, and multiple sites throughout the United States. Risë K. Phillips has an MPH with a specialty in Epidemiology and Biostatistics and an MBA from the University of California, Los Angeles, John Anderson School of Management.

Deizel Sarte, RN, CEO
North County Health Services

Deizel Sarte is the CEO of North County Health Services and has been a key asset to the organization for 12 years. Beginning with NCHS as an RN, her administrative and strategic talent was quickly noticed and she was brought on as a major player to the administrative team. As the Sr. VP of Operations for the last four years, she was instrumental in the successful implementation of Electronic Health Records (EHR), which streamlined clinical efficiencies and increased patient privacy. In addition, one of her most recent achievements was leading the organization through the 12-month process that has yielded NCHS with Level 3 PCMH recognition by the NCQA. Her effective management skills have resulted in practical and creative solutions that have improved workflows throughout the organization, and have distinguished her as a forward-thinking healthcare leader. She is a graduate student in the prestigious UCSD Master of Advanced Studies (MAS) in the Leadership of Healthcare Organizations Program.

